 - Targeted to different levels of authorizing experience (e.g., 101, 201, 301)
 - Essential areas of authorizing responsibility
 - Annual reviews, renewal evaluation, governance oversight
 - Alignment to CA's new accountability system
 - Alignment to the significant legislative challenges
 - Tailored to District /County Requirements
 - Tailored to small (under-resourced authorizing offices)
 - Tailored to large (offices with greater capacity)

Research

Students with disabilities enjoy an appropriate continuum of academic and social emotional specialized instruction in the charter schools in our district.

Goal 2: Disadvantaged Students – The Problem

During the time charter schools have been in operation, a gap has existed between the proportion of students with disabilities enrolled in traditional public schools and those enrolled in charter schools.

Both nationally and within Florida, the prevalence of students with disabilities has consistently been lower in charter schools.

Goal 2: Disadvantaged Students – Closing the Gap

As a result of the Needs Assessment, 36 recommendations were made to close the gap between traditional and charter school enrollment of students with disabilities. The action plan addresses 20 that were prioritized as high need and critical as well as additional research needed in year 2.

Methods to Close the Gap

- Utilize the capacity interview process to probe the applicants' true understanding of the charter school's ESE obligation
- Leverage existing professional development for both district staff and charter school leaders
- Utilize contract language changes to eliminate ambiguity as to school and authorizer responsibilities
- Streamline and formalize communication, practices, and procedures for ESE monitoring and contract renewals
- Establish Networking opportunities for ESE and Charter district staff to engage in ongoing collaboration
